By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) called today for immediate severance of diplomatic relations with Russia and all her satellite nations.

"We should break off relations until these Communists learn how to live properly in the free world's family of nations," Ferguson said.

The Michigan lawmaker expressed his views in commenting on reports—confirmed by the state department yesterday—that the United States is reviewing the question of whether to close all American embassies in Russian satellite countries.

Services Friday For Col. Arnold

YPSILANTI, Mich.—(AP)—Col. Glenn B. Arnold, State Selective Service Director who died suddenly yesterday, will be buried Friday from St. Luke's Episcopal Church here.

A firing squad from the National Guard 32nd Division Signal Company of Ypsilanti will fire a salute to the Colonel, who was a member of the guard for more than 30 years.

Members of the Michigan National Guard will serve as pallbearers. Taps will be sounded at the grave.

Col. Arnold, a graduate of Ypsilanti high school and the University of Michigan, joined the National Guard on his 18th birthday in 1909.

He was commissioned a lieutenant in 1913 and served in the Mexican border campaigns of 1916 and 1917 when he became a captain, then a major.

In 1917 he went to France as commander of the 107th Field Signal Battalion. He served with the Occupation Forces in Germany, was discharged from the army in 1919 then rejoined the National Guard with the rank of major. He became a lieutenant-colonel in 1923.

He was recalled to active army duty in 1940, and was assigned as a member of a military mission to the Middle East in 1942.

The next year he was transferred to the staff of the State Selective Service Headquarters in Lansing and became a full colonel.

He retired last May after 42 years' military service but continued in a civilian capacity as director of the draft in Michigan.

Father-To-Be Dozes, Falls Out Of Window And Lands In Hospital

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—(AP)—An expectant father fell out of a second-floor hospital window yesterday only a few minutes before his wife gave birth to a baby girl.

Mother and child, hospital attendants said, were doing fine, but the father—27-year-old Bill Brown—was a patient in the same hospital with a back injury. His condition was described as fair.

Hospital officials said Brown had apparently dozed off while sitting on a window sill in the waiting room.

Truman Shift Is Confusing To Democrats

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's off-again, on-again entry into the New Hampshire Presidential primary left Democrats confused today about contests elsewhere.

Frank McKinney, the party's national chairman, made it clear there will be no objection to entering Truman delegate slates in such states as California, where the candidate's consent is not required.

But he left in the air any decision on what will be done in states like Wisconsin, where the President would have to consent to the use of his name.

Sixty Days to Decide
Wisconsin law requires the filing of a slate of delegates before Feb. 29. McKinney told a news conference yesterday he hopes Truman will decide "within 60 days" whether he is going to seek a new term, but gave no indication he thinks the President will announce his plans this month.

In New Hampshire, Truman's name could have gone on the Presidential preference ballot without any action by him, if he had not previously asked that it be withdrawn. However, delegates "pledged" to a candidate needed his consent, and he gave it.

The uncertainty about the President's plans brought new efforts by Senators Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Kerr (D-Okla.) to line up delegate strength. Kerr has not formally announced his candidacy, but he has made it fairly plain he intends to run if

A Senate subcommittee on internal security reported last night that an uncontrolled flood of Communist propaganda is pouring into this country, some of it through diplomatic channels, and finding its way into labor unions, universities and other institutions.

Ferguson added: "By closing the embassies and consulates Russia and her satellites have in this country we would get rid of a lot of spies the Communists have sent here. The good that would result from such a move would far outweigh any disadvantage to us."

King George Of England Dies Suddenly In Sleep

queen; Princess Elizabeth, who will ascend to the throne; her consort, the Duke of Edinburgh; the King; Princess Margaret. In the foreground are the two children of the princess and duke.

Princess Elizabeth New British Queen

By The Associated Press
LONDON—(AP)—Tired and spent, King George VI died today after 15 years on the throne. His daughter Elizabeth, 25, became queen.

The word reached her in an African colony, one of the remnants of empire. She wept. Arrangements were made to fly her home tomorrow.

George VI—the steady sort of monarch the Britons love—died in his sleep at Sandringham, the royal estate in Norfolk where he was born 56 years ago. All over Britain, the people said:

"He was a good man."
The King and his Queen Elizabeth, with their two pretty daughters, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, had won the hearts of Britain by their steadfast refusal to seek safety abroad during World War II.

Hill Recaptured Without Bullets

SEOUL, Korea—(AP)—For the second time in 48 hours Allied infantrymen today recaptured a hill position on Korea's western front without firing a shot.

Reds seized the vantage point northwest of Yonchon Monday night. Allied troops regained it Tuesday night. Wednesday morning U. N. troops again marched to the top without seeing a single Communist soldier.

In other ground action Wednesday, the Allies threw back three light Red probes in the mountainous east.

Nine B-29 Superforts hit rail lines and industrial targets in North Korea Tuesday night.

Light bombers knocked out 35 of 700 vehicles spotted on North Korean highways during the night.

Allied naval headquarters said Navy planes and warships killed or wounded 1,022 Red troops in the week ended Feb. 3.

Lt. Col. Holmes New Acting Director Of Draft In Michigan

LANSING—(AP)—Lt. Col. Arthur A. Holmes became Michigan's acting director of Selective Service today following the death of Col. Glenn B. Arnold, state director since 1948.

Col. Arnold, a member of the Michigan National Guard for more than 30 years, died at his Ypsilanti home yesterday following a heart attack. He served in the Mexican border campaign and both World Wars.

Governor Williams said Col. Arnold's death had cost the state "one of its most conscientious and experienced public servants; he was a man of absolute integrity, high ideals and great ability."

Lt. Col. Holmes, the deputy director, will serve until Williams recommends a permanent appointee to national draft officials.

Funds To Fight Lamprey Sought

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress, which already has appropriated $700,000 toward ridding the Great Lakes of the hated sea lamprey, is to be asked to put another $446,000 into the work.

Representative Potter (R-Mich) told a House Merchant Marine and Fisheries subcommittee yesterday the money, if appropriated, would be used to complete research on control of the lamprey.

Other witnesses before the committee were Dr. Ralph Hile of Ann Arbor, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service biologist, and Dr. James W. Moffett, who is heading the government's war on the lamprey as a member of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Dr. Hile said the parasite has virtually wiped trout from Lake Huron, Lake Michigan and Lake Ontario, and is costing commercial fishermen in the United States and Canada about $5,000,000 a year.

Dr. Moffett, showing color movies of weirs, electrical devices and other methods being used experimentally to control the lamprey on the lakes, said additional funds are needed to complete final phases of the research program.

Senators Back Wilkie For Iron Mountain Postmaster's Job

LANSING—(AP)—Michigan's seven Democratic state senators today backed a former colleague, Albert J. Wilkie of Iron Mountain, for postmaster of that city.

Wilkie now is acting postmaster.

The senators sent petitions to Governor Williams and U. S. Senator Moody (D-Mich), Democratic patronage dispensers, asking the permanent appointment for Wilkie, a former senator.

How about the tuberculosis hospital fund? Ryna asked. "Two and a half million dollars was divided up outside and Wayne county got nothing. After a press outcry a measly $300,000 was voted to Detroit to brick in some sun porches on a city-owned hospital. That's the way we have been treated."

Salesman, 89, Gets Social Security Card

DUBOIS, Pa.—(AP)—George Humphrey, an advertising novelist salesman, got his first Social Security card yesterday.

He told officials he plans to work until he's 100 and then retire "and enjoy the benefits."

Humphrey is 89. He wasn't eligible for Federal Social Security benefits until the law was expanded recently to cover self-employed workers.

Social Security officials believe he is the oldest person ever to apply for a card.

Marriage No. 4 Flops

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Actress Hedy Lamarr says her fourth marriage, "on which I had placed such high hopes," is a flop. She plans to seek an "immediate" divorce from Ernest (Ted) Stauffer and "resume my life where I left it eight months ago."

More U. S. Defense Orders Promised Detroit Industry

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Detroit industry soon should start getting more defense orders under a new directive issued by Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson.

Wilson told the Defense Department yesterday to start channeling orders into Detroit and other areas where unemployment is high, even if it means paying higher prices for the work turned out.

Over 150,000 Idle
It was the first concrete governmental action aimed at relieving the serious manpower situation that has left more than 150,000 unemployed in Detroit and elsewhere in Michigan. Cutbacks in car production and the failure of auto companies to get defense contracts have been blamed.

Wilson's new order will be carried out through recommendations of a seven-man "surplus manpower committee," to be established by Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, his manpower assistant.

The committee, Wilson directed, will be responsible for determining which areas need government work and the extent of their requirements.

Other Cities Listed
The committee also is to notify the Defense Department how great a price differential may be paid to send contracts into areas listed as surplus labor spots.

A maximum differential of 10 to 15 per cent is being considered, Dr. Flemming told reporters.

There was a possibility that the Grand Rapids and Flint, too, might get aid under the new order.

These two Michigan cities are on a list of 23 areas that the Labor Department has found contain a "substantial labor surplus." However, it has not yet been decided whether all or only a few of the 23 areas on the list will be certified for receiving extra consideration on defense contracts.

Winnie Evades Police 4 Days

PHEONIX, Ariz.—(AP)—Trunk murderer Winnie Ruth Judd evaded authorities for the fourth day since her escape from the Arizona state hospital.

Several reports from people claiming they had seen her proved to be without foundation.

At Mexico City Col. Silvestre Fernandez, chief of detectives of the federal police, said there was no indication Mrs. Judd had crossed the border. From several quarters it had been reported Mexico was her destination.

Mrs. Judd escaped for the fifth time from the state mental institution Saturday night. At first, it was believed she descended from a third-floor window with an improvised rope.

But Dr. M. W. Conway, hospital superintendent, and L. C. Boies, Maricopa county sheriff, agree now that Mrs. Judd picked the locks on the doors of the building in her dash to freedom.

Georgia Ex-Governor To Accept OPS Job
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two top mobilization officials said today that Ellis G. Arnall, former governor of Georgia, has reconsidered and is expected to accept the directorship of the Office of Price Stabilization.

One of them, who asked that his name not be used, told a reporter he understands President Truman probably will nominate Arnall for the post tomorrow.

The appointee must be confirmed by the Senate.

Masked Pole Tells Of Mass Slaughter Behind Iron Curtain

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A tense witness in a pillow-slip mask testified today he saw Polish officers being shot by Russian soldiers in Katyn forest—scene of one of the greatest mass executions of all time.

In all, he said, he and two companions saw 200 Polish officers put to death.

Some Buried Alive
The witness, identified as an escaped prisoner of the Russians and former Polish soldier, told a special House subcommittee that some Polish officers were thrown alive into a vast pit among the corpses.

In short Polish sentences, the witness—his name and background were withheld—described killings in an eerie flood-lit forest near Smolensk, Russia in October, 1939.

He said "I saw prisoners being shot" while with two companions, he lay strapped in a tree within the forest.

The stocky witness wore a pillow-slip over his head to conceal his identity from the Russians lest they take reprisals against members of his family behind the Iron Curtain. He spoke and saw through slits in the crude white mask.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Madden (D-Ind.), is investigating the murder of some 10,000 Polish officers in Katyn forest. Earlier witnesses have said the Russians did the killing. The Soviets always have blamed it on the Germans.

The masked survivor, in his middle forties, now lives in this country.

He was confined in the Russian prison camp at Gryazovets in 1939. A Catholic priest learned of pending assassinations and persuaded the witness and a companion to join him in escaping from the camp so they could watch.

Hospital Plans Delayed A Year

Plans for expansion of St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba, originally slated for 1952, will be delayed until 1953 because of the lack of federal funds for any hospital construction in Delta county this year, it has been reported by the Michigan Office of Hospital Survey and Construction in Lansing.

The Escanaba project which had a priority rating of C-52 a year ago has been moved up to B-24, primarily because of the hospital construction program in Michigan during the past year.

Mr. Homminga, assistant director of the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction, yesterday informed Hugh Grow, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, that an anticipated federal appropriation of $5,000,000 for hospital construction in Michigan in 1952 has been reduced to $2,500,000.

"This appropriation is insufficient to reach the priority of the St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba," Mr. Homminga reported. "There will be no federal funds available this year for any hospital construction in Delta county because it is more urgent to develop hospital facilities in areas where the need is greater."

Was Planned for 1952
Rev. Fr. John Weishar, of Peoria, Ill., director of hospitals operated by the Third Order of St. Francis, which organization operates St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba, has maintained close contact with the Michigan Office of Hospital Survey and Construction to determine the status of the Escanaba application.

About a year ago, plans for the expansion of St. Francis Hospital here were announced after tentative approval of the application has been indicated by the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction. It is proposed to construct an addition for at least another 50 beds at St. Francis.

All improvements that have been recommended by the state office for the Escanaba hospital have been fulfilled within the past year.

Many Improvements
Expenditures in excess of $30,000 have been made to improve the facilities at St. Francis Hospital. These include modernization of the operating and laboratory facilities, maternity and nursery department, record library, the installation of modern dishwashing equipment, the appointment of a full time dietitian and the appointment of a full time record librarian. In addition, a modern blood bank has been installed at the hospital, with the registered technician in charge.

"The delay in expansion of St. Francis Hospital has developed simply because of the reduction in the federal appropriation," Mr. Homminga said. "St. Francis Hospital has done everything that could be expected to further its application for a federal grant."

Total Of $219,830,382 Paid Out In Bonuses To Michigan Veterans
LANSING—(AP)—The state has paid a total of $219,830,382 in bonuses to Michigan World War II veterans as of Jan. 31, the adjutant general's office reported.

Of the 622,006 claims received, 614,898 have been approved, 6,255 have been disapproved and 835 are still in processing. The average payment per claim was $358.

Payments to survivors of Michigan Korean war dead totaled $305,750 as of Jan. 31. There have been 692 claims received with 621 approved, 13 disapproved and 58 still in processing. The average payment per claim was $492.

Favor Varied Home Spacing

To avoid the uniform sameness of home spacing on lots in new construction areas, the Escanaba city planning commission is recommending to the council that certain changes in this regard be made in the zoning regulations.

Meeting Monday night the planning commission adopted a motion recommending the change in side-yard regulations, thus allowing greater flexibility in the location of new homes on the lots.

If adopted, the change would end the present regulation making uniform spacing mandatory. The result would give variety and a better appearance of the residences in the block, the commission pointed out.

Other business before the planning commission included the following:

Recommended vacating two streets (20th and 21st) between Fourth and Fifth avenues as requested by the Diocese of Marquette in the location for a proposed Catholic Central high school; providing the Diocese gives the city an easement of 10-foot width along the alley between 20th and 22nd streets and north of Fifth avenue.

Recommended further conference and study in connection with a request of St. Thomas church to purchase five and one-half lots on the west side of North 20th street for use as a parking lot.

Recommended that a local business area on Lake Shore Drive in the vicinity of Eighth avenue south be changed to a Class A residential.

Recommended that the council consider eliminating a canopy extension included in plans for the city water treatment and pumping plant at Sand Point, with a resulting saving estimated at $11,000.

news. A special meeting of the city council was called for the framing of a proclamation.

The Princess made a hit here on her visit last Fall. Windsor became immediately fond of her. As residents talked of the King's death, they recalled his visit here with Queen Elizabeth in 1939.

That was a big time for all of Canada. Huge crowds turned out in Windsor. At no previous time had there been such an assemblage here.

Truman Will Answer Potter

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(WNS)—Rep. Charles E. Potter of Michigan, who charged that Newbold Morris of New York City named by the President to investigate corruption in the Federal Government "had let himself be used by Communist front organizations" will be answered by Mr. Truman at the latter's next press conference and the answer will be a blistering one.

When Rep. Potter was told that the President might answer the charge on Morris, Rep. Potter said he would welcome any comments the President might have. He said he had never been "blistered" by a President and that he is a good position to answer back provided Mr. Truman hands out any saucy talk.

Morris will be in Washington this week and will also have some remarks to make about the Potter charge. Rep. Potter said that Morris had been quoted as saying the charge was "asinine," and remarked that this word is one which is often used by the Chief Executive along with "red herring."

Of course, Morris admitted that as a former public official he might have spoken before Communist organizations but denied he was a member of any of the organizations listed.

The Potter charge has the effect of placing the new investigator under a handicap in beginning his investigation of Federal departments, the first on his list being the Department of Justice headed by J. Howard McGrath, attorney general, who is supposed to have had a lot to do with the selection of Morris.

Undersea mountains 11,000 feet high were discovered in the Arctic Ocean between the Orkney Islands and Spitsbergen.

Trial Begun In Assault Case.

Trial by jury was begun today in circuit court in the case of the People vs. Hugh Hamilton Sheppard, 35, a Great Lakes sailor from Charleston, W. Va., charged with assault with a dangerous weapon without intent to inflict great bodily harm.

Testimony of six witnesses, including the victim, was heard this morning in regard to the charge of felonious assault which was filed after the arrest of Sheppard on the night of Nov. 28.

It was reported that the victim, George Martin, 58 of north Bay Shore attacked Sheppard in Skradski's Hotel, 1432 Sheridan Rd., after the former criticized Sheppard for using foul language in the presence of Mrs. Martin. In the ensuing scuffle Martin suffered a laceration on the chest, about 1/2 inch deep, and two minor cuts in the same area of the body.

State's witnesses testifying this morning were Mr. and Mrs. Mirko Skradski, proprietors of the establishment where the incident occurred; Dr. Harold Q. Groos, physician who treated the wound; Joseph Dalich, companion of the Martins at the time of the alleged assault; Mrs. Minnie Martin, the victim's wife; and George Martin, the victim.

Jurors hearing the case are Harold Walk, Roy Estenson, Lawrence St. Ours, George Pepin, John L. Schwartz, Mrs. Viola Bjurman, Edith Weingartner, Catherine Danielson, Mary A. Fontaine, Evelyn Alice Pintal, Edna J. Ambau, and Mrs. Celia Pichel.

In a non-jury civil suit heard yesterday by Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson, the court awarded a judgment in favor of Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis, doing business as St. Francis Hospital, in the amount of $398.23 with costs, on a case brought by the hospital against Heskeli Seikkeli for payment of a debt for services and merchandise.

Undersized Fish Bring $100 Fines

Two commercial fishermen were assessed fines of $100 each and $9.35 costs yesterday afternoon after pleading guilty in Justice Henry Ranguette's court at Escanaba for possession and offering for sale of undersized whitefish.

They are Paul Van Lanshoot, Munising Rt. 1, and Robert Schram, 418 Michigan avenue, Gladstone.

Conservation officers arrested the two after an inspection of whitefish shipments Monday night. It was determined that only two whitefish of 75 pounds shipped by Van Lanshoot were of legal size, and only three legal sized fish were found in a shipment of 125 pounds by Schram.

The undersized fish, taken off the train at Nahma Junction Monday night, were confiscated by the conservation department.

Traffic Lights To Be Centered

Traffic lights at intersections on Ludington street in Escanaba will be relocated above the street at the center of the intersections, in compliance with a decision of the city council.

City Manager A. V. Aronson said the lights will be taken from the intersection corners, where they are not located, and suspended above the center of the street. This will not entail any purchase of lights.

First light relocation will be at the intersection of Ludington and 11th street and the work is expected to be done this week. The relocation of the other lights at other intersections will follow.

When completed all of the lights will be assembled in clusters above the street as at 23rd and Ludington.

The change will provide better visibility of the traffic lights to the motorist.

BACKS SCHOOL BONDS—E. G. Bennett, general manager of the Escanaba Paper company, one of the largest employers of local labor, has issued the following statement in endorsement of the school bond issue:

"I intend to vote in favor of the school expenditure program in the coming election February 18 for two reasons:

"First, because industry is setting higher standards of education as a necessary requirement of employment and the development of modern, up-to-date schools will provide this requisite for the families of our employees.

"Secondly, from a sound business standpoint, it is always considered economical to replace obsolete and worn out equipment which not only fails to meet modern requirements but is a safety hazard, particularly so in this case when with the funds provided by the Catherine Bonifas estate, it will be possible to obtain one dollar's worth of value for every 63c of taxpayers' money. In industry today it is just the reverse.

"If our company were offered $500,000 or $600,000 if we would spend $1,000,000 of our own money for some badly-needed improvement, I know what the answer would be. Industry, however, does not receive offers like this."

Editorials—

Friday, Feb. 8 Is Deadline For Registering In School Election

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 8, is the final day for registration for the special school bond election Feb. 18.

It is important for every citizen age 21 or older to know whether he is properly registered to vote in the Feb. 18 election. The time to find out, of course, is now, before it is too late.

If you have voted in the City of Escanaba within the past two years, you are properly registered as a school elector as well as a qualified voter in city and state elections. It is not necessary to register again for the Feb. 18 election. If you have not voted in Escanaba within the past two years, you may not be registered. In any case, it is well to check at the city hall on your status and to complete your registration on or before Friday, Feb. 18.

The special election on the school bond issue is important to Escanaba residents. The issues involved should be decided by a majority vote of all of the qualified voters of the community, not merely a handful.

School leaders have said repeatedly that their major objective in this election is to get a heavy turnout of voters. Naturally those who are familiar with the school problem want a favorable vote on the bond proposal, but they concede that it would be better to have the proposal lose in an election in which all of the voters participated than it would be to win the election with an extremely light vote. The Escanaba Press wholeheartedly concurs in this viewpoint.

The Escanaba Press is pleased with the interest being evidenced in the community on the school bond issue. Because of the importance of this issue and the great public interest being displayed, we have permitted the publication of letters, both pro and con, that are lengthier than usually authorized in our "Letters" column. We feel that full expression of viewpoints help to crystallize public thinking on this issue.

If you have any doubts of your qualifications as an elector, that is, whether you are registered or not, be sure to investigate before Friday, Feb. 8. After that day, it is too late.

If you are not registered, you cannot vote Feb. 18.

Barring Relief Costs Cuts Welfare Load

THOSE who advocate abolition of Michigan's so-called "Lien Law" under which the state reserves the right to recover from the estates of old age assistance recipients have never been successful in efforts to repeal the law simply because the experience charts conclusively prove that the "Lien Law" saves taxpayers millions of dollars.

The theory of the law is that sons and daughters who refuse to support their aged parents should not benefit from their parents' estate until the state has recovered funds provided for support of these aged people. The "Lien Law" does not in itself harm the aged people because they will never be dispossessed in their lifetime.

Now it is revealed that opening relief rolls to public inspection cuts welfare rolls about 10 per cent. That has been the experience in the state of Indiana, which was the first state to defy federal law and to open relief rolls to public scrutiny. The law has since been changed and now all states, if they desire, are authorized to open their relief rolls to public inspection.

Indiana showed a drop of 14.7 per cent in its welfare load from Dec., 1950 to Nov., 1951, during which time the Indiana Legislature voted to open its relief rolls to the public. In the same period Michigan, which preserves secrecy of its welfare lists, showed a drop of only 4.4 per cent and Ohio, another state which hides its welfare lists, showed a drop of 4.5 per cent.

The biggest declines in Indiana relief costs occurred in general assistance cases, which dropped 25 per cent, and aid to dependent children cases, which dropped 20 per cent. Its old age assistance rolls dropped 12 per cent.

HAT CHASE

I can think of many ways in which a man can look the fool and sometimes I think his actions just earn him ridicule. But I have in mind an instance when he pays a heavy toll, looking foolish over something which mere men cannot control. For no fellow looks so silly, be he thin or be he fat, as a guy who must, when comes the wind, go chase his fleeing hat.

I do not know why the public, when his hat a man must chase, thinks there's something very funny as he runs his futile race. As he stumbles here and slithers there to try and grab his lid, folks will double up with laughter as he makes each futile bid. And I think they ought to turn their heads and talk of this and that, so a fellow need not feel a fool when he must chase his hat.

The Doctor Says . . . Avoid Use of Sleeping Drugs Unless They're Really Needed

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

T. D. F. says, "I have read a great deal of the dangers of taking sleeping pills and have wondered if this applies to the type that may be bought at any drug store without a prescription."

"One of these is advertised as containing no narcotics or barbitol. Do they affect the breathing centers of the brain and would it be dangerous for a person with one lung to take them occasionally?"

As Mr. F. points out, the danger of taking sleeping pills has been generally recognized.

As a result, most states now have laws which prohibit drug stores from selling sleeping pills containing barbiturates, except on a doctor's prescription.

This is for the protection of the public and in order to avoid some of the dangerous effects of taking such pills in too large quantities, or too often.

To answer the question specifically, I should be doubtful that any pill which really induced sleep would be entirely safe to take, except under direction.

Without knowing the particular drug or drugs included in the pill, it would be hard to know whether it would affect the brain or would be dangerous for a person with one lung.

By all odds, drugs containing barbiturates are the most commonly used for sleeping purposes. These are various combinations of chemical substances, called barbituric acid. The barbiturates can cause acute poisoning.

A group of 13 hospitals, for example, collected 643 cases of poisoning by these drugs. These patients had taken large overdoses and were sick enough to have to go to a hospital.

Doubtless, there were many others who had taken a little too much and had merely been slightly sick or overslept.

Some people are especially sensitive to the barbiturate drugs. Such persons can get reactions from only small quantities.

Some people become addicted to barbiturates, that is, they develop a habit and liking which is difficult to throw off and, of course, may produce harm if it is not.

HOW HABIT DEVELOPS

Most people who develop the barbiturate habit have been using the pills for sleeplessness. The habit usually takes several months or even years to become established.

Occasionally someone has trouble stopping even if they have used sleeping tablets for less than a month.

Those who are in the habit of taking a sleeping drug find they have to take larger and larger quantities and that even then the results are less and less successful.

Chronic poisoning is possible. One woman who had taken barbiturates for several months became mentally incompetent, lost control of her elimination, lost weight, and had to be fed with a spoon.

Sleeping drugs should be taken with caution. They act on the nervous system and on other parts of the body. They should be avoided, except when there is some real reason for using them.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A lot of people have long figured they could run the Voice of America program much better than the men who are running it. This applies to about half the members of Congress, any one of whom will tell you exactly what should be said on the broadcasts reaching behind the Iron Curtain.

Actually, however, the State Department has welcomed ideas from all sorts of people, including congressmen, as to what should be on the Voice of America. Furthermore it is now open to a unique idea. This is to have the school children of America broadcast to the school children behind the Iron Curtain.

The most important objective in winning the peace and preventing war is to convince the people on the other side of the Iron Curtain that the American people truly want peace. Every day the Moscow radio pours out a torrent of propaganda aimed at doing exactly the contrary—namely, convincing the Soviet peoples that the American people want war. Obviously this is to help steel the Russian people to bear the tremendous burden of war preparation and the virtual slave labor of the armament factories. It's also to mould public opinion for the day when the Kremlin decides war is to be declared.

Soviet propaganda has been especially directed at the youth of Russia — on the theory that if you can bring up the next generation steeped in the idea that the American people are its chief enemies, then you don't have to worry about propagandizing them later.

That's why the school children of the United States can do a great service for their country and for future peace by co-operating with the Voice of America in getting the truth behind the Iron Curtain. They can tell the school children of Russia what life is really like in our schools, how American children have the friendliest feelings toward other children all over the world, and how they have contributed generously to help their friends in other countries.

The method of sending these "Messages to Moscow" is now being discussed with state school superintendents. Obviously there will not be room on the radio channels to carry a message from every American student. But tentative plans are under way to have local school officials pick the most appealing messages written by the children of that city or state and have them transcribed for use on the Voice of America.

A recent series of interviews with Russians escaped from behind the Iron Curtain showed that Soviet propaganda had made its biggest inroads on the children. They are rapidly becoming completely communized. That is where the school children of America can do a great job for their country in helping to tell the truth to the children of Russia.

JOE'S ADVERTISING BOYCOTT

Statuesque Sen. Guy Gillette, the Iowa Democrat, has got himself betwixt and between regarding his friend, Sen. Joe McCarthy.

As chairman of the subcommittee charged with investigating McCarthy, Gillette was the only senator who privately opposed the probe. In the secrecy of the committee he argued that McCarthy would get his revenge on committee members and indicated that he, Gillette, partially agreed with McCarthy. In the final showdown, when Gillette saw that all other committee members were against him, he switched and voted for the investigation. But he has never been enthusiastic.

Other senators figured that the Iowa senator's reluctance was partly because Colonel McCormick's Chicago Tribune, strong McCarthy supporter, has a big circulation in Iowa and might hurt Gillette's re-election.

However, an interesting thing has now happened. One of Colonel McCormick's editorials has now attacked Senator McCarthy for advocating an advertising boycott of Time magazine. This was in retaliation for Time's criticism of McCarthy. Describing McCarthy as "Low Blow Joe," McCormick's New York News, largest circulating paper in the world, commented:

"The senator now threatens to try to persuade Time's advertisers to withdraw their business. . . You're no blushing oratorical violet, Joe, and you've got the whole U. S. Senate as a sounding board. How about settling your squabbles that way, without getting suckered into fouling out?"

Note—McCarthy also used the safety of senatorial immunity to call the Saturday Evening Post pro-Communist. "This article," he said, referring to the Post's criticism of McCarthy, "is almost 100 per cent in line with the official instructions issued to the Communists and fellow-traveling members of the press."

have not been put completely out of commission. Trains are continuing to operate, largely on a short-haul basis, but still moving vital supplies to the Communist forces. They remain a primary target.

An admittedly good but limited rail system like that of North Korea can stand up under such punishment, it is certain that the most extensively developed system in the world—America's—could do even better. The more solid roadways and structures, stronger—built equipment, and the widely dispersed network of American railroads would make the job of destruction that much tougher.

This is important to home-front defense. If an attack should be made on this continent, continuing railroad service would be essential to both resistance and recovery.

Among logistics specialists, it has become an adage that you cannot produce and use any more of anything than you can haul. And railroads are the domestic backbone of this hauling job, a fact borne out by their World War II record.

During those war years, railroads moved more than 90 per cent of all military freight while producing at the same time more than twice as much intercity transportation service for all other goods as all other forms of transportation combined. That explains why railroads rank as top targets. Obviously, if you can cut this vital medium of mass supply for armed forces or for production on the economic front, the enemy is half beaten, the war half won. This was basic putting the Reichsbahn out of commission that the German railroads remained largely intact to within half a year of war's end.

And even then, though singled out for sustained saturation bombing, they constituted one of the last facilities of enemy resistance to go out of action. This testimony to the railroads' sturdy resilience under shock is contained in the postwar report of the U. S. Strategic Bombing Survey.

The same kind of record was written by England's railroads during the early war years when the German aerial blitz was at its height. In some cases, entire yards and other strategic installations were bombed out of use. Yet, usually within a period of hours, damage was repaired sufficiently to permit resumption of train traffic. Or alternate routes around the blitzed area were set up and operating.

The foregoing expediencies of quick repair and alternate routing are major clues to how American railroads would hold up. Not generally known is that the nearly 700 railroads in this country have agreements already in effect to cope with emergency. These provide for the immediate use of alternate routes in case of damage to any one line or group of lines—a plan made possible by the existence of a sweeping pattern of 397,000 miles of track crisscrossing America, with innumerable possible routings connecting most major cities.

The raging floods of last summer in Kansas and Missouri, and this winter's high Sierra blizzards, bringing damage to rails beyond even what atom bombs could do, exemplify the effectiveness of alternate routing. The nation's rail traffic continued to roll around the stricken area. And prompt repair of damages quickly restored traffic into the area shortly after flood waters receded.

But probably the best example of railroad flexibility is the drama of re-routing during the Ohio River flood of 1937. Every river crossing from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Ill., was closed then by high water. Yet, commerce between north and south continued, with trains running in a giant circle through rail gateways east and west of the flooded region.

There is little actual difference between damage from bombs and damage from floods, washouts and landslides. This sort of interruption is met by railroads with organized energy. And they are ready to meet any attack of the future with the same energy.

Why Don't Bombs Stop Railroads In Red Korea? Faricy Has Answer

By WILLIAM T. FARICY

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The record of resistance to bombardment of the battered railroads of North Korea offers an answer to a question that could have top importance here at home in event of all-out war: How well would America's railroads hold up under enemy attack?

For more than a year, the North Korean railroads have been subjected to concentrated and sustained bombing from United Nations airplanes and naval ships. They have taken additional punishment from ground fire, from commando raiders and behind-the-lines saboteurs. Time and again, rail bridges, shops, marshalling yards have been reported destroyed.

Yet, follow-up reconnaissance almost invariably discloses trains soon operating again over the same stretch of track.

There is no question but that our bombing has seriously disrupted and delayed Red rail transport from Manchuria and Russia to the front. Military officers, nevertheless, sum up the results of our strategic bombardment like this:

"The North Korean railroads have not been put completely out of commission. Trains are continuing to operate, largely on a short-haul basis, but still moving vital supplies to the Communist forces. They remain a primary target."

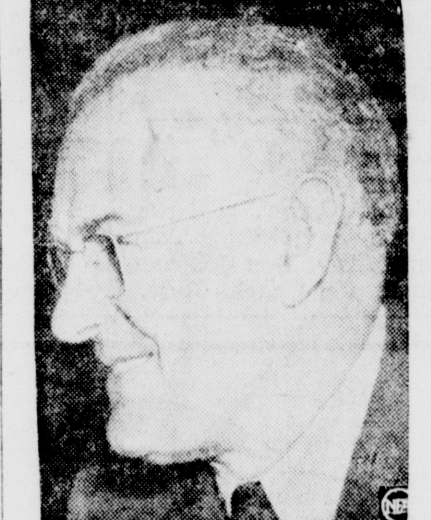

An admittedly good but limited rail system like that of North Korea can stand up under such punishment, it is certain that the most extensively developed system in the world—America's—could do even better. EXPLOSIVE INDIA—John R. Meuhl is a serious-eyed man with a mustache and a reputation as an author. Perhaps the reputation accounts for the serious eyes and the mustache, since he might be considered in some quarters as far too young to be an authority on any subject.

During World War II he served two years in India, came to know the Indians fairly well, and returned home to write "American Sahib." After the war, fascinated by the vast area of troubled India, he was drawn back for a further study of the people.

"Interview With India" established Meuhl as an author of penetrating perception and more than ordinary stature. To date his book has sold more than 200,000 copies, and you will find it on your public library shelf.

Following publication of his second book, Meuhl (it's pronounced Meal), became a University of Michigan faculty member. He was in the Upper Peninsula this week on a limited tour to speak to club groups. The tour was limited because Mrs. Meuhl is momentarily expecting arrival of the stork at Ann Arbor.

UNDER THE LID—Americans have little information, historical or current, concerning India and Asia. People of the United States, therefore, do not have the necessary background to judge the issues, to make decisions on U. S. foreign policy.

News services give current events only cursory coverage in Asia, and that carelessly done, Meuhl charged.

Too few newspapermen are stationed there. In India there was only 15 correspondents for the U. S. news services. These correspondents were not adequately prepared for their work, said Meuhl.

BACKGROUND FOR REVOLUTION—Thus disposing of the inadequacies of correspondents, Meuhl presents the peoples' condition in India—poverty, disease and debt—which is the background for revolution.

In judging the Indian political scene, Meuhl said, Americans must understand that one of every three babies born dies in infancy; the average life expectancy is age 26; and the average annual income is $17.

Nationally, however, India is not poor. It leads the world in exports of manganese, mica, jute, and has vast resources of low grade coal. Yet the people live in poverty and burn cow dung for fuel. Why?

SOCIAL MALADJUSTMENTS—There are three primary causes of social maladjustment at the root of the problem:

1.—Feudalistic and oppressive absentee ownership of the land.

2.—The village money lender who charges interest rates up to 30 and 40 per cent and carries debts into millions of dollars into the third and fourth generations of a family.

3.—Corruption at the lower level in Indian government, which has changed little despite the departure of the British and inauguration of national independence.

Bribery is widespread and traditional, money from the United States to the government of India would end up in the pockets of corrupt officials rather than find its goal of assistance to the people.

COMMUNIST GAINS—The poverty of the people plus their inability to work through their government to correct abuses results in an explosive condition—and the spreading grip of Communism.

Meuhl reported that in one Communist area the local tax collector and money lender had been ousted, the land divided among the people. This was reform by revolution.

There are four or five Communist colonies in India and their number is growing. Within ten years? Perhaps a Communist India.

What can the United States do? It can help the people directly with agricultural education and implements, Meuhl said.

But it cannot buy friendship—it must win it. The situation is desperate but not hopeless, Meuhl found. The people can be won by helpful programs in the fields and villages—not by subsidizing an oppressive and corrupt government of feudal landlords.

READERS ASK QUESTIONS

Chicago—"Please explain the difference, if any, between 'some' and 'any.' I have in mind some sentences in which they seem to be interchangeable."—T. D. M.

Answer—I am sorry that you did not quote a few of those sentences to give me a better notion of your problem, as you have used both "some" and "any" quite correctly in your inquiry. But perhaps you mean the differences when both are used as adjectives. Thus, when you ask, "Have any people been here today?" you show uncertainty, that is, you show a hope that there has been at least one caller, or perhaps several, but you were not counting upon it. But when you ask, "Have there been some callers today?" though you are still uncertain, you do indicate that you were expecting one or more. That is to say, although both "some" and "any" are indefinite, "any" expresses the greater degree of indefiniteness and uncertainty.

Kansas City, Mo.—"Kindly distinguish between the usage of the verbs 'purpose' and 'propose'."

Answer—"To 'purpose' is to offer; to 'propose' is to intend. A proper usage would be, 'I purpose to marry Helen, but must first propose to her,' but 'propose' is now used in either sense, despite the purists."

E. G. A., Bethlehem, Pa.—"The word 'burglary' is an American coinage of about eighty years ago, and is still considered by all dictionaries to be colloquial."

N. H. T., Anderson, S. C.—"In the pronunciation of 'interesting' and 'interested,' the American preference is to sound all four syllables in each. However, some recent dictionaries indicate that the usual British 'IN-tris-ting' and 'IN-tris-tid' are accepted here also."

Pickford Bank Payoff Studied

PICKFORD, Mich.—(P)—A proposal for paying off part of the frozen deposits of the closed Pickford bank was studied by a newly-named depositors' committee today.

The proposal was advanced last night at a meeting of 1,000 of the bank's 1,900 depositors. It was set forth by former Senator Prentiss M. Brown and Sault Ste. Marie attorneys Claude Coates and R. C. Kline, who said they were acting as unofficial "advisors."

Just Under One-Half

Under terms of the proposal depositors would be paid "just under" 50 cents on the dollar, Brown said. In addition, a new state bank would be formed under new management and ownership to replace the closed institution.

The depositors, jamming into Pickford High School auditorium, appointed an 11-man committee to study the proposal. It would have to be approved by bank receiver Harold McGauley, the state banking commissioner and Circuit Judge Herbert W. Runnels before taking effect.

The bank was closed Oct. 30 after the suicide of cashier and owner Ford Beacom.

Last night Brown told the depositors auditors had found shortages of "just under $900,000." He listed current assets at $563,769, including $253,000 cash on deposit.

Speculated In Oil

Outlining events leading to the bank's closing, Brown said its financial plight began with a "large, unsecured, unauthorized" loan by Beacom to a "man in Detroit." The man was not named. Trying to recoup, Beacom next made another "unauthorized" loan, Brown said, to a group interested in salvaging a sunken wheat ship.

Finally, faced by large shortages, he began investing in oil speculations. Beacom's suicide preceded by one day the arrival of state bank examiners. Under legislation spurred by the failure of another private bank, the Tolfree bank in West Branch, the Pickford institution was to be placed under state supervision.

Lansing Lawmakers Asked To Authorize Straits Span Plans

LANSING — (P) — The Mackinac Bridge Authority has asked the Legislature to authorize the preparation of construction plans for a bridge across the Straits.

Included is a request that the legislature loan it $2,000,000 from highway funds to pay for final designs, blueprints, surveys, borings and other engineering data, the loan to be repaid from a financing of the bridge itself.

Private Funds Ready

Authority members said their agency was ready to finance the bridge with private funds if the legislature would permit it to do so.

The report covered a 20-month survey of potential traffic and revenues prepared by Coverdale and Colpitts, New York consultants.

The consultants said a 3½ per cent bond issue totaling $87,000,000 could be paid off in 26 years and would cover the cost of the bridge plus financing.

If the Legislature subsidized the bridge as much as it now subsidizes the ferry service, the structure could be paid for within 24 years and in either case the tolls would be the same as the current ferry fees.

Noting that ferry traffic across the Straits has increased an average of 7.5 per cent annually during the past 21 years, the survey estimated traffic will grow six per cent a year from 1951 until the bridge is completed and five per cent annually thereafter.

The survey reported that 47 per cent of the present ferry traffic comes from the extreme southern part of Michigan and that only about five per cent is local travel.

"This study indicates," the report said, "that the ferry is primarily a link in a through route between the northern and southern peninsulas of Michigan and points beyond rather than a facility serving local areas."

The consultants said the bridge would reduce crossing time from 60 minutes to 10 minutes exclusive of waiting time for the ferry which was estimated at 45 minutes to one and three quarter hours.

Similar large bridges in other parts of the nation caused traffic to expand from 64 to 81 per cent when they replaced ferries, the engineers said.

Crane county, Texas, has the smallest population of any county in the United States.

Soo Locks Shipping Near Record In 1951 At 120,068,562 Tons

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—(P)—Freighters carried a near record 120,068,562 tons of cargo through the Sault locks in 1951, the U. S. district engineers reported.

The tonnage was second highest on record. Only the 1942 season, with its mark of 120,199,479 tons, was higher.

Shipping men said the 1951 season would have been the greatest ever except for exceptionally poor weather in November. Fog, snow and high winds retarded shipping that month and eliminated chances for a new record.

A total of 90,371,820 tons of iron ore passed through the locks during the '51 season for the lower lakes steel mills. That was 11 per cent more than the 1950 tonnage.

Here are other 1951 and 1950 figures:

Soft coal—10,680,507 (13,130,705); wheat 9,348,352 (5,717,084); oil products 2,884,376 (845,990).

Michigan Top State In Hunting Licenses, Second In Receipts

WASHINGTON — (P) — The 48 states had a record gross revenue of $37,840,791 from sale of 12,660,993 hunting licenses during the year which ended June 30, 1951, the fish and wildlife service reported.

The total receipts ran $199,742 more than the 1949-50 total of $37,641,049. The number of licenses was greater by 23,192 than the 12,637,801 in 1949-50 but the record of 12,758,798 set in 1948-49 stood.

It was noted that "Minnesota's gross income from hunting licenses was cut almost in half in 1950 because the state did not have an open season on deer during the fall of 1950."

Michigan again led the states in licenses issued, with 1,037,633 for 1950-51 and 1,031,035 for 1949-50, but came second in receipts from hunting fees with $2,980,350 last year and $2,944,885 in 1949-50.

Pennsylvania led the states in receipts, with $3,046,156 last year and $3,032,326 the year before and was second in licenses issued, with 827,949 and 834,091.

U. S. Should Pull Out Of Korea And Europe, Rep. Bennett Believes

WASHINGTON — (P) — This country should pull out of Europe and Korea and concentrate on defending the western hemisphere, Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich) believes.

"Millions of Americans," the Michigan Congressman said during a television interview, "are fundamentally opposed to our having land armies all over the face of the globe."

Bennett appeared with Rep. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) on the program "The Big Question."

"Our prime responsibility," he said, "is the defense of the western hemisphere."

He contended the fighting in Korea "hasn't solved a single question," and insisted that even if this country should fight and win a war in Europe "I don't think we'd be any better off after we licked the Communists than we are today."

Bennett said he believed the United States should supply naval air and the atom bombs to Western Europe, but should not send ground troops. He added:

"I don't object to giving them a reasonable amount of military supplies, but I don't believe there is anything in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization pact that requires us to do the fighting of a land war, and that is what we are getting ready to do and that is what I object to."

"The best thing we can do in Europe is get out of there with our troops and crack down on our commitments, and gear our assistance and foreign policy to what we can afford."

The Michigan Republican insisted that the country cannot afford to keep troops in Europe if there is no war, and if a major conflict should come while U. S. ground forces are there "that means that the minute they are attacked we will have to send unlimited numbers of more troops to Europe to help them out."

"Before we are through," he said, "we will have eight or ten

Confessions Clear School Vandalism In Detroit Suburb

DETROIT—(P)—Wayne county sheriff's officers said confessions of five teen-age youths have cleared up two years of vandalism in suburban Taylor township schools.

The five boys taken into custody today range in age from 13 to 16.

Officers said the boys admitted making 15 raids on the Federal Elementary School and almost as many on Treadwell School in the past two years.

A house-to-house questioning search, following a raid last Saturday on the two schools, led to the confessions, officers said.

A result of the weekend raid, Federal School was forced to close for half day. Windows were broken, desks ransacked, and a bonfire was set in the principal's office. When the blaze got out of hand, the boys said they squirted it and each other with fire extinguisher fluid.

Now Betty, after months of practicing in secret, is walking again. She says:

"It was something that happened in God's providence."

Lumber Supply Outlook Good

GRAND RAPIDS—(P)—Michigan's retail lumber dealers met in annual convention here today and heard some good news right at the start.

H. R. Northrup, executive vice president of the National association, predicted that most supplies would be abundant, and considerable light construction would be completed this year.

He warned, however, that builders would have to "exercise considerable ingenuity" in coping with shortages of metals.

"The volume of non-defense industrial and commercial construction will be held down because of the scarcity of steel, aluminum and copper," Northrup said in an address.

"But repair and modernization work and farm construction will continue at a fairly high level. At least 800,000 new homes will be started unless existing controls are radically changed," he said.

The convention continues thru Thursday. Other speakers scheduled include Dr. John A. Hannah, Michigan State College president and Rep. Jessie P. Wolcott, Port Huron.

Armed Forces Have 521,441 White Collar Workers On Payroll

WASHINGTON — (P)—A report to the Senate said today the Armed Forces have 521,441 white collar workers on their payrolls. This was an increase of 24,884 during the last six months of 1951.

The figures were in a report of the joint committee on reduction in nonessential federal expenditures, headed by Senator Byrd (D-Va.), covering the six months from July 1 through last Dec. 31.

The group said the number of civilian industrial workers of the Armed Services rose 17,624 to a Dec. 31 total of 756,668.

While the Armed Services' civilian employee total was rising, the report said, the number of workers hired by other government agencies was on the decline. The committee reported a net reduction of 21,410 workers in the six months, to a total of 1,226,680.

The report said the government as a whole had 2,504,789 civilian workers on Dec. 31, drawing combined pay totaling 10½ billion dollars a year. The Dec. 31 total was 21,098 greater than on July 1, the start of this fiscal year.

MOTHER AND SON REUNITED — The search of a lifetime ended this week when Sgt. Don Pollock, 24, a Korean veteran, saw his mother, Mrs. Bertha Dennison, in Ann Arbor for the first time since he was a year old. Becoming separated at the Ionia County Infirmary, Pollock lived in boarding houses, institutions and foster homes most of his life until authorities at Ionia and the Michigan Children's Institute at Ann Arbor traced his mother's whereabouts. She lives just west of Ann Arbor.

Eaton County Rustlers Flee

CHARLOTTE, Mich.—(P)—Cattle rustlers didn't go out with the vanishing of the old west.

William J. Jones, 61, of Holt reported to Eaton county sheriff's officers that two tough hombres held him up at gunpoint last night and tried to rustle the four head of cattle he was driving to the Charlotte livestock market.

Jones said he was forced to the side of the road by two men wearing overalls and caps. One flourished a nickel-plated revolver.

"We want your load," he growled. Jones is a pretty tough hombre himself. He swung open the door of his truck and knocked the gun out of the rustler's hand.

There was a scuffle on the road that broke up when his assailants fled because they saw a pair of headlights approaching.

Jones called the sheriff's office and reported, "they went that-a-way."

Then he drove his unrusted cattle to market.

Czech Courier Flees To London From Reds

LONDON — (P) — A Czechoslovak diplomatic employee who fled from his country's embassy here is in British custody and is seeking "political asylum."

A home office spokesman announced the escape and identified the man as M. Rosa. He was a courier at the embassy, other sources reported.

British papers printed conflicting details of Rosa's dramatic flight from his Communist bosses. Some said he climbed to the embassy roof about a week ago, slid down a drainpipe and hailed a passing police car. Others said the Czech embassy called the police and reported a man climbing over the roof. When the police surrounded the building, Rosa pleaded to be arrested.

Letters To The Editor

FOR THE BOND ISSUE

Dear Editor:

When the proposed public school building program and the bond issue involved was first presented to the citizens of Escanaba for consideration, I felt that it concerned a vital aspect of our community life—important in its own right and worthy of consideration quite apart from any other utilitarian function of our community. And feeling this way I have tried to learn all the facts involved so that I might know my own personal stand on the matter.

Since that time I have studied an astonishing number of facts compiled over a period of more than two years, made available for public enlightenment by our school board. These facts were arrived at through several door to door canvasses, the annual school census and through consultation with a number of nationally known school building experts.

Even the parochial school enrollments were carefully taken into consideration. Along with acquainting myself with this information, I've talked with members of our school board and with many others of our citizens who, believing in the importance of this issue have given unstintingly of their time and energy. I believe that this proposed building program should go through. I feel a responsibility as a property owner due to be affected by the increase in tax to do what little I can to contribute toward this effort.

At the same time and along with this feeling of individual responsibility, I realize that there are some who feel differently than I in regard to this issue. These people are exercising their privilege of freedom of thought, the same as

I—and I don't respect them less for this, merely because our ideas don't coincide. However, I also acknowledge that these people surely must have facts at their disposal additional to those I am familiar with, to cause this decided difference in opinions. These are facts that I, too, would like to learn. Assuming their existence, I feel that these should be openly added to those already before the public. Without additional facts, I could not find reason for a very strong opposition to the issue.

Some of the individuals of different opinion than mine are of the Catholic faith. I am a Protestant. I cannot feel that this in itself is reason enough for their opposing such an issue. There are existing Catholic grade schools in Escanaba and there is an existing high school and an additional one proposed. The facts already available show that the rapid increase in public school enrollment is above and beyond any present parochial enrollment of future estimation of this enrollment.

In many towns and cities throughout our country, there are strong parochial school systems—some Catholic, some Lutheran, some Methodist, some Presbyterian, and many others. I was brought up in a town that boasted two beautiful Episcopalian schools
—one for boys and one for girls—covering grades one through high school. In all examples that I have come upon there has been no lack of consideration of the community as a whole and no evident lack of active progressive participation by all in the public school system.

Public schools are an acknowledged part of our democratic way of life and hold a natural first place in the educational picture in the consideration of us all. Those of us whose preferences are for private instruction for our children exercise these preferences but never with the idea of conflicting or competing with the first consideration—a public school system with the best provisions available for the community as a whole.

Our proposed public school building program in Escanaba is an important consideration, but one that can be met, discussed, compared, and, finally, decided upon with open mind and calm

Wake Up To More Comfort

Without Nausea or Backache
Nausea, backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slowdown of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—do it miserably. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up in the middle of the night.
Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 million of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

emotion. Something as vital as a community educational building program for our children must, at no time, be the cause of rift, either in friendships or in community factions. This I feel even more keenly than I do that the present proposed building program should go through—and I know that this is the feeling of us all.

Regardless of the outcome of the issue, let's be sure that the considerations involved have made us a community even stronger and more united in purpose.

Very truly yours,
Betty Fuller

Steam-soaked Switchboard

Restored Quickly

JAMES T. MOORE, Detroit Ball Bearing Co. executive, and LEONA HENDERSON, the firm's switchboard operator

OLIN WARREN

KERMIT J. MANORE

It all happened at the office and warehouse of the Detroit Ball Bearing Company over a recent week end. A steam line burst, right under the room where the company's telephone switchboard was located. Clouds of steam rose through the floor, drenching the switchboard inside and out, making it useless.

Michigan Bell PBX Repairmen Kermit J. Manore and Olin
Warren rushed to the scene, went to work, restored service.

James T. Moore, Secretary of the ball bearing firm, wrote the following to Michigan Bell:

"A note of appreciation for the excellent emergency service rendered to us. The service men on the job certainly worked extremely hard to give us service. They worked until approximately 9 o'clock last night and were on the job again this morning.
Thank you for the excellent co-operation of your department and particularly your service men who stuck by the board."

telephone service good

Who's Who in a Pro-4 Cell

Shock was added to shock as I uncovered gradually the surprising personalities who went twice a month to homes and apartments in Boston and Cambridge for cell meetings.

At first the young people I met appeared to be rather agreeable members of the white-collar class, a notch above the secretarial or clerkship level.

Norma, our hostess at that initial meeting, although on a higher level than an office girl, was less skilled than the others; she was the homey type and obviously frightened by some of the things she heard in cell meetings. She seemed to be a young woman who was infatuated with the scientific aspects of socialism, and she thought it was smart to know about them. Norma's husband, Mike, was a certified public accountant, and I understood that he was a member of another pro-cell.

Then there was Susan, a Bohemian type who thought she wanted to be a writer. It was fairly obvious to me that she was unhappy in the party and was staying in because she was afraid of blackmail and knew no easy way out.

Another member of Pro-4, Butch was a young artist, also with rather Bohemian ways, who lived on Beacon Hill. He was not very bright politically but the party put his artistic talents to good use.

Perfect Shield

Peg Gilbert — Mrs. Margaret Gilbert — served as a wonderful shield for our Pro-group activities; she was held in such high esteem by her neighbors that we could meet at her house with relatively little fear of arousing suspicion.

She was a plain young woman with straw-colored hair, the mother of two children, and the wife of a labor union organizer. A stylish attractive young woman in the group — Helen, by name — was our courier. She was extremely quiet and wore her expensive clothes like a professional model. Never did she indicate by so much as a word exactly what her job with the group was, but her frequent trips to New York and to Europe — with no visible means of support — led the rest of us to the correct conclusion that she was not only a courier but an international courier.

Harry Winner, the quick-witted and affable Malden rubber company executive, and Samuel Adams School instructor, was one of them. Although I'd met Winner before at various functions and on one occasion we had spoken from the same platform, I did not know him well until he began attending our meetings.

Curiously enough, one of those closest to Winner was Dirk J. Struik; and they made an interesting study in contrasts. Dirk was cold and calculating — perhaps the prototype of the pure scientist. He was not only a great mathematician but an expert in Marxist theory as well; and he combined these two fields in his flat assumption that the foundation of Stalinism was to be found in science.

Culture simply oozed out of our pro-group; graduate and honorary degrees were a dime a dozen. One of the most popular members of the group was a woman of great talent who could boast a family listed in "Who's Who," a European education, and a degree from a fashionable Eastern college. She had written a dozen successful books and was a leader in all sorts of women's clubs and professional groups.

Plenty of Money

At one of the early meetings, I saw sums of $15 to $25 passed along casually to our treasurer and it was not long before I realized that Pro-4 had ample resources on which to draw. The members were nicknamed for dues, "sustaining fees," and for innumerable "drives, funds and causes." In one such drive alone, our 80 members produced more than $3,500 in cash. One of our older and wealthier members, Mrs. Sara Gordon, the wife of an affluent jeweler, used to hold receptions in honor of such party stalwarts as Paul Robeson and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn in her swank hotel apartment.

I learned that there were other cells also in the group including a teachers' cell in the public schools; two cells composed of writers, authors, newspaper men and radio workers; two of business men; a cell for lawyers; another for doctors; cells for college professors, including one at Harvard and one at M. I. T.; a cell for social workers, and a cell of phony ministers, a few of whom were ordained. In all, it was estimated, that Pro-group membership in the Boston area numbered about eighty persons, in addition to which there were a few Pro-group floaters. There were some fifteen Pro-group cells.

The Pro-group operated with almost complete independence from the district leadership. Major party directives were passed to the group directly from the Communist party national headquarters in New York.

The members of the Pro-group represented the intelligentsia, the party intelligentsia as distinguished from that of the bourgeoisie. They were the vanguard of the vanguard. Their mission as a group, through individual influence in their communities, businesses, professions, civic organizations and local governments, was to direct the thinking on all issues toward the tenets of Marxism-Leninism and toward conclusion that would aid the Communist party.

Many of the Pro-group's offensives to win men's minds were dramatic. Henry A. Wallace was brought to Boston for a major radio address in his 1948 Presidential campaign. A copy of his speech came into the offices of the Progressive Party on Beacon Hill the day before the event, and ultimately found its way into the hands of my business man friend from the pro-cell. He regarded the speech as woefully inadequate, fuzzy and confused. My friend called me at my office and asked me to hurry over. I sat down with him for more than two hours, and worked over Wallace's phraseology. My friend rewrote the speech during the night, and by noon the following day it was mimeographed. Whether Wallace had time to read it before the broadcast I never knew. But in any event, comrades in the Pro-group were delighted with the speech as it was given.

Party Platform

The Pro-group worked most intensively on the Progressive Party's campaign for Henry A. Wallace, which was one of its major activities during the period of my membership. We were under strict orders to maintain secrecy as to Communist party participation in the affairs of the organization. On Sunday, Feb. 8, 1948, the state convention of the Progressive Citizens of America was held in Boston to draw up a resolution, later to be transformed into the platform of the Progressive Party. A glance at the platform is the best evidence of Communist influence.

It called for complete rejection of the Marshall Plan for strengthening Western Europe; the withdrawal of all military personnel, equipment and aid from Greece and Turkey on whose borders Communist pressure was constantly applied; the rejection of Universal Military Training and drastic reduction of military expenditures to an "absolute minimum"; support of "democratic" China; repeal of President Truman's loyalty order and "revocation" of the power of the F. B. I.

The F. B. I. queried me, "Where do these orders come from? Who gives them?" In my cell they usually came from Martha Fletcher, the cell leader. They came to Martha from "Jan," who received them by courier from New York.

Another skilled career man whom I knew in the Pro-group worked in the heart of Boston's financial district and had ready access to facts and figures.

One of the Pro-group members managed to get himself a post on the governor's study commission for the drafting of a Fair Employment Practices law.

In Boston there is an organization known as the Twentieth Century Association, considered to be a respectable liberal group with a fifty-five-year history in the community. On March 25, 1947, at 3 Joy Street in Boston, Philip Jaffe and Julian Freidman gave a "Report on China" and on "China's People Today."

Dirk Jan Struik, professor of mathematics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, assisted in the project, and the speakers were obtained by way of Maude Russell's "Committee for a Democratic Far Eastern Policy" — an organization listed by the United States Attorney General as subversive.

One of the most active fronts in Boston was the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee. It was a favorite fund-raising project of the party, playing with elaborate virtuosity upon the sympathies of ordinary citizens for the victims of the defeated fascist armies. The list of sponsors of this group revealed a remarkable absence of known Communist party members which would make it appear the Communists had been deliberately blackballed.

Elaborate Benefits

They staged elaborate benefits for which the arrangements, including the sponsorship, were all worked out in Pro-4 meetings. One of these, I recall, was a benefit motion picture, a performance of Malraux's "Man's Hope." In our pro-cell, we arranged for the hiring of an auditorium—in this case the New England Mutual Hall. We assigned comrades to work on sponsors, and among those who were successfully taken in for this fund-raising dodge were Mrs. Karl T. Compton, Dr. Channing Frothingham, Rabbi Joshua Loth Liebman and dozens of other noted Bostonians.

Not long after the party took a swift dive for cover. The cause of the flurry was a warning from O. John Rogge, former special assistant to the Attorney General, that Attorney General Tom Clark was preparing to use a New York grand jury investigation on subversive activities as a springboard for the launching of a new series of raids against the Communist party.

The top brass scrambled for cover. District leaders fled the Little Building headquarters and ran into hiding out of the city, taking the party's important records with them. The tipoff said that the raids would take place

Nov. 17, and it was not until several days after that date that the party relaxed its vigilance and sheepishly emerged from the bushes. No one ever explained this raid which did not come off.

If there was propaganda material for me to pick up for development, a rendezvous was arranged at a soda fountain. I purchased a copy of "The Boston Globe," entered the drug store, and took a stool next to the party courier who had a copy of the "Globe" on the counter beside him. I placed my paper next to his, and after a brief interval he picked up my copy and departed. When I finished my coffee, I took the remaining "Globe," the folds of which later yielded the source material for a party pamphlet or flyer together with instructions for turning it out.

I carried my completed work to the Boylston Street subway station by a tunnel running under Boylston Street, and retrieved the material without ever going above ground.

"Arm the Workers"

Then came a cell meeting one snowy night at Martha's Grove Street apartment on Beacon Hill.

Her customary warmth vanished and her voice lost its softness. Her eyes glinted with irritation and impatience.

"The time has come when we must be realistic," she said. "Civil disobedience is nothing new in American history. There are opportunities for it on all sides. We Communists must be vigilant to support incidents of civil disobedience wherever we find them, and to initiate them where necessary . . .

"Furthermore," she said, and I passed on her exact words to Don Richards, "we should arm the workers for it, and we should arm them now."

It was this firebrand—ostensibly a youth leader in the Unitarian Church in Massachusetts, an associate director of American Unitarian Youth, a fiery campaigner for the Progressive Party, and a diligent worker in many other organizations, a brilliant, persuasive, and bewitching young woman—who became the chairman of our pro-cell.

After the conclusion of our studies on the state and revolution, Professor Dirk Struik of M. I. T. came to a meeting at Peg Gilbert's in Cambridge to give us a summation. In a two-hour harangue, Dr. Struik analyzed the conditions for socialism and revolution in almost every nation in the world.

On July 20, 1948, the Federal Grand Jury in New York slapped conspiracy indictments against the twelve top leaders of the Communist party including Chairman William Z. Foster. Horror and outrage spread through the party ranks.

Shortly after the indictments I received a telephone call at the office from Don Richards.

When we met, Richards looked straight ahead through the windshield. "This might not be easy. The Justice Department wants to know if you might be willing . . . would volunteer . . . to appear as a government witness at the trial of these twelve. They want you to tell your whole story."

Studios Here Are Merged

The merger of the Linderoth and Bradley Studios and the formal opening Thursday morning of their new store in the Williams building, 207 S. Cedar St., was announced yesterday by Vern C. Linderoth and Harold Bradley.

The consolidated photographic enterprise will be known as the Linderoth-Bradley Studios and, in addition to operating a camera store in the eastside business district, will have a studio at 227 Lake street around the corner from St. Francis de Sales Church.

Both Bradley and Linderoth have operated photographic studios in Manistique for several years—Bradley at 123 Main street and Linderoth at 227 Lake street. The Bradley studio is being closed with the opening of the store on South Cedar.

Linderoth has been a professional photographer here for the past 12 years and Bradley opened his photographic business here in 1945. They have been assisted in their work by their wives, both experienced in portraiture and color work, and the two women will continue to take an active part in the consolidated business.

Bradley is a veteran of World War II and had considerable photographic experience prior to his military service.

Their photographic work during the past few years has won recognition by being reproduced in magazines and metropolitan newspapers and exhibited at various shows.

Mrs. Linderoth and Mrs. Bradley are sisters, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Secore, 116 Pearl St.

Will Give Kuder Test To Seniors

Senior students of Manistique high school will be given Kuder Preference Record tests within the next few days, it is announced by Carl Olson, principal.

By a long series of questions on various types of vocational preference and interest, answered by pin pricks through paper on charts, a preference scoresheet is obtained showing preferences in nine different occupational classifications.

The nine classifications listed are mechanical, computational, scientific, persuasive, artistic, literary, musical, social service and clerical. The class in which the test reveals the highest score is the one in which normally a student will seek his occupation.

A list of various occupations available in each classification also is included in the test form, enabling a student to make a selection of the type of work best suited to his temperament and interests.

Robbins' principal business had been management of the estate to which he fell heir. His wife is the former Helene de Pree of Spring Lake, Mich.

Study Is Made Of Jack Pine Seeds

The age of parent tree apparently has no effect on the development of jack pine seedlings, according to a study started on the Lower Michigan National Forest by the Lake State's Forest Experiment Station back in 1937.

Fourteen year old trees grown from seed collected from 70- to 80-year old jack pine comparable today in height and diameter with those grown from the seed of trees from 10 to 60 years old. Although slight variations in early development were observed, these differences disappeared once the young trees were firmly established.

Similar results were obtained in northern Minnesota using jack pine seed from cones of various ages, but from trees of one age class.

The results of these studies, according to R. A. Ralston, station forester, indicate that once jack pine seedlings become established, differences in growth or development probably cannot be attributed to the age of either seed or parent tree.

Chicago is the crossroads of the nation's railroads.

WINNIPEG, Man. — (AP) — Introduction of a civil defense program in schools of greater Winnipeg was advocated by Maj. Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, director of civil defense. He said the school program is one of the strongest links in any public education for civil defense.

Study Is Made Of Jack Pine Seeds

The age of parent tree apparently has no effect on the development of jack pine seedlings, according to a study started on the Lower Michigan National Forest by the Lake State's Forest Experiment Station back in 1937.

Fourteen year old trees grown from seed collected from 70- to 80-year old jack pine comparable today in height and diameter with those grown from the seed of trees from 10 to 60 years old. Although slight variations in early development were observed, these differences disappeared once the young trees were firmly established.

Similar results were obtained in northern Minnesota using jack pine seed from cones of various ages, but from trees of one age class.

The results of these studies, according to R. A. Ralston, station forester, indicate that once jack pine seedlings become established, differences in growth or development probably cannot be attributed to the age of either seed or parent tree.

Chicago is the crossroads of the nation's railroads.

Although Trojan Pete Kutches has surrendered his individual scoring leadership in the Upper Peninsula to towering Norbert Purol of Ironwood St. Ambrose, St. Joe still maintains the best scoring average as a team. . . . The Trojans have registered 749 points in 11 games for a per-game average of 68.1. . . . Six other Upper Peninsula teams are hitting better than 60 points a game. . . . Gwin is second with 67.7, Mass third with 67.4, Nahma fourth with 64.9, Negaunee and Piekford tied with 63, and St. Ambrose rounding out the list with 61.

It is significant that St. Joe scored its all-time record high recently against Bark River when Kutches turned in his lowest point total of the season. . . . The Trojans hit 85 with Kutches working mainly as a feeder and scoring only nine points. . . . He was in action about two full quarters. . . . Kutches, by the way, is one of two seniors on the St. Joe varsity squad. . . . The other is little Bill Baker, classy forward.

Purol, who measures six-feet, eight-inches, has an average of 26.6 points per game—his season's total being a fat 426. . . . It is possible for him to break the Upper Peninsula's all-time individual scoring record of 539 points set by Brimley's Jim Mills last season. . . . Purol has three regular season games remaining besides tournament play. . . . In other words, he needs 133 points and has at least four more games in which to get them.

The St. Ambrose giant tangled with Kutches once this season and came out on the short end of it in spite of his height advantage. . . . The two top scoring centers met when St. Joe beat St. Ambrose 56-53 in the Parochial school tournament at Marquette. . . . Purol scored six baskets and three free throws for 15 points before fouling out of the game in the third quarter. . . . His five personal fouls were committed against Kutches. . . . The Trojan cager in the meantime netted 13 field goals and eight free throws for 34 points.

Ishpeming Holds Top Rung In Great Lakes

Ishpeming maintained its lofty perch atop the Great Lakes Conference ladder last week, posting its seventh straight loop win by a 60-29 count over Marquette. . . . Rated the top class B team in Sault Ste. Marie Friday night in the Peninsula, Ishpeming faces Sault Ste. Marie Friday night in its semi final Great Lakes outing. The following night the Hematites of Coach C. C. Watson close out league competition at Negaunee.

The second place Miners, idle in the Great Lakes last week, travel to Marquette Friday night. Manistique's Emeralds return to action in a host role to Newberry Friday.

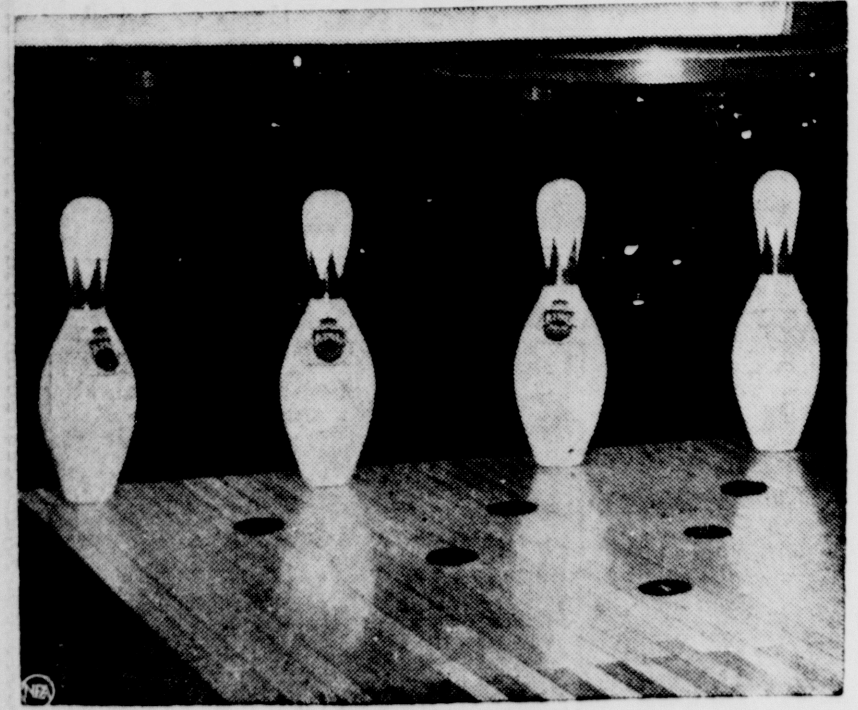

Following are standings, results and schedule:

	W	L	Pct.
Ishpeming	7	0	1.000
Negaunee	6	1	.857

Al's Tavern Team Tags Powers 70-56

The Courneane brothers, Jack and Bob, teamed up for 33 points last night to lead Al's Tavern to a 70-56 independent cage win over Powers. . . . The teams were tied 13-13 at the end of the first quarter of rough play. Al's moved out to a 27-22 lead at the half, led 42-37 at the end of the third and poured in 28 points to run off with the decision in the final quarter. . . . Al's controlled the rebounds most of the way with Ray O'Seene, Don Martineau, Tippy Legault and the Courneanes looking good. Don Paulin, Al's forward, suffered an injured knee in the first quarter and left the game.

Seven, Eight, Nine And Ten Pins Keys To Making Snares

TARGET—Hitting the 7, 8, 9 and 10 pins solidly enables a bowler to turn in almost any spare. (NEA Photo)

Tenth of a series written and illustrated for NEA Service By BUDDY BOMAR

Former Match-Game Champion

A bowler adds 10 points to his score with each spare.

The key pins in spare-bowling are the 7, 8, 9 and 10. Hitting each one of these pins solidly enables a bowler to turn in almost any spare. This does not apply to splits or near-impossible leaves, of course.

Here are the spares which can be scored by covering each of the back four pins:

No. 7-4, 7 and 4-7.

No. 8-1-2-4, 1-2-4-7, 1-2-4-8, 2-4-5, 4-7-8, 4-8, 2-5, 5-8, 2-4-5-8, 2-4-5-7-8, 2-8, 1-2-7-8, 2-4-5-7, 1-2-4-7-8, 4-7, 4, 5, 1-2, 8, 2-4-7, 2-4-7-8 and 2-5-8.

No. 9-1-3-6, 1-3-6-10, 1-3-6-9, 3-5-6, 6-9-10, 6-9, 3-5, 5-9, 3-5-6-9, 3-5-6-9-10, 3-9, 1-3-9-10, 5-6-10, 1-3-6-9-10, 6-10, 6, 5, 1-3, 9, 3-6-9, 3-6-9-10 and 3-5-9.

No. 10-6, 10 and 6-10.

Practice picking off the back four pins one at a time to develop your ability to convert all of these leaves.

These four are the target pins. Cover them consistently, and your score is bound to improve.

NEXT: Practice.

Hawks Aim For Second Win Over Pioneers At Indoor Rink Tonight

Hockey Sidelights

The ice is fast, the Portage Lake Pioneers are in town and hockey at its best will be on the menu for Delta county ice fans tonight when the Escanaba Hawks try to make it two straight over the defending NM league champs. . . . The Hawks opened a lot of eyes in the Northern Michigan circuit two weeks ago when they handed the rugged Pioneers their first and only defeat of this season. Escanaba had a 5-3 edge in a rough game that saw players of both teams mixing it up in a free-for-all.

Back In Action Since that game the Pioneers lost and regained three of their star players. Tony Bukovich, Mike Bukovich and Bernie Ruelle retired from the team because of "lack of support for home games" but returned to action last weekend to lead the Pioneers to a 10-1 victory over Marquette. . . . Coach Mark Olson announced this morning that Bert Pajala will rejoin the Hawks for the home stand tonight. Pajala, who will probably fill in on the second line with Guy Poce and John Cortopassi, will remain for the next five Hawk games, giving the Escanaba sextet added reserve strength.

In Good Shape All players are in peak physical condition and should be able to match the Pioneers for 60 minutes of fast hockey. Coach Olson said. Defensively the Hawks never looked better than in their last outing in which they handed the Calumet Radars a 6-0 shutout. . . . The Hawks will be battling to move out of a tie for third place with the Marquette Sentinels. . . . In addition to the above mentioned returns, the Pioneers will bring along Ray Luoto to mind the goals, Jackie Ruelle, Jim Shetney and Coach Joe Bukovich, O'Brien, Taddeucci, Juntunen, Ruohonen, O'Connell, Lowney, Hermanson and Morin, all veteran pucksters. The game will get under way at 8:15.

Regular fans from Manistique, Blaney, Gladstone, Iron Mountain and throughout Delta county are seeing Escanaba home games. . . . Ben Artwick, Escanaba's stellar goalie, has a large following from the Stambaugh, Iron River area also. . . . The Hawks are putting Escanaba on the sports map in the good, old U. P.

Eddie Olson, older brother of Mark and Ted of the Escanaba Hawks, is currently the sixth high scorer on the Cleveland Barons of the American League. . . . In that fast competition, he has seven goals and 19 assists for 26 points. . . . Walter Bechtold, who played for the Hawks last year and wanted to come this year, is playing with his home town Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, team in the Saskatchewan Senior League. . . . He wants us to go to work right now on a work permit for him so he can come to Escanaba next fall and bring his Uncle Cecil with him. . . . Walt really likes our town and wants to settle down here.

John Offidani, who played with the Canadian Soo against Marquette, Milwaukee and Houghton here three years ago, is leading scorer of the Soo Greyhounds (19 goals and 19 assists) who are way out in front in the fast Northern Ontario Senior league. . . . Sudbury Wolves, North Bay and Sudbury Miners trail in that order. . . . Escanaba fans may recall Offidani's sparkling play. . . . He was only 17 at the time and the Detroit Red Wings were reported to have an eye on him. . . . So is a Red Wing farm club.

Eddy Moy, former Marquette player, is now with the Grand Rapids Rockets of the International Amateur league and second high loop scorer. . . . The Rockets are leading the International. . . . Jack Adams, general manager of the Detroit Red Wings, was honored recently for 25 years of service with the Wings as player, coach and manager. . . . Paul Chandler, former Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., scribe, presented him with a present on behalf of the Detroit Sports Writers association. . . . Chandler covers hockey for a Detroit newspaper. —JGW.

Rapid River Host To Trenary Quint Saturday Evening RAPID RIVER—Coach Norman Slough's Rapid River cage quint is idle until Saturday night when Trenary invades the local court for an Upper Peninsula Central League clash. ## Favor Hairston In Bout Tonight

DETROIT—P—Robert Villmain, the rugged French middleweight, is expected to go into his 10-round bout with Eugene Hairston of New York here tonight at 6-5 underdog.

Less than a week ago Hairston had been favored among the wagering gentry here by as much as 9 to 5. . . . Just why Hairston should be favored wasn't clear from the rival records. The Frenchman's opponents in three years of campaigning in this country have been generally of higher caliber than those taken on by Hairston since he emerged from the preliminary ranks in 1949.

The bettors may have taken into consideration, however, that Villmain had only four bouts in 1951 and hasn't fought since late November.

Both fighters will be risking their middleweight title ambitions in the bout that promises to be something of a pier brawl at the Olympia. Both are hopeful of getting a crack at champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

A crowd of around 8,000 will be expected for the fight which will be nationally televised and broadcast (CBS) starting at 10 p. m. (EST).

Nahma Fights Off Eben 59-40; 13th Straight

EBEN — Coach Walford Mickle-son's Eben cagers put up a dogged fight before becoming the 13th straight victim of the Nahma Arrows here last night.

The Arrows of Coach Harold "Babe" Anderson remained one of the undefeated four in Upper Michigan with a 59-40 victory, but not before staging off an aggressive Eben crew.

Nahma was pressed to gain a 14-10 edge in the first period and came out scrapping in the second quarter to lead 31-18 at halftime. The Arrows stretched it to 45-24 at the three quarter mark. Eben outscored Nahma 16-14 in the final period with reserves in action for both teams.

22 Players Twenty-two cagers saw action for both schools, 13 for Eben and nine for Nahma. Center Paul Thibault paced Nahma with an even 20 points. Bebo, in the center slot, led the losers with a dozen.

Nahma has four games left on the schedule. The Arrows are host to Grand Marais Saturday, travel to Trenary the following Friday and to Perkins Feb. 22 and then close the season with a home stand against Rapid River on Feb. 28.

Hussey Gets Son And Cage Victory On Same Evening

MANISTIQUE—(Special)—Coach Bob Hussey's wife presented him with a 9-pound baby boy (first child for the couple) here last night and his Manistique Emeralds gave him a 54-50 Great Lakes Conference cage win at Munising.

Coach Hussey remained here for the blessed event and Reserve Coach Dick Berger took over at the Emerald helm to invade the Munising court.

The Emeralds trailed 12-11 at the end of the first period but rallied to take a 26-18 lead at the half. Manistique spread its margin to 45-32 at the three-quarter mark. In the final period the Emeralds appeared to have the game wrapped up when near-disaster overtook the Manistique cagers.

Turn On Press Trailing by 10 points with about three minutes remaining in the game, the Munising Mustangs threw a pressing game at the Emeralds and began to close the gap. Their all-offensive tactics caught the Emeralds unexpectedly and nearly upset the apprear.

Two Munising players and one Emerald cager fouled out of action in the hectic final quarter. Three cagers shared high scoring honors. Warren Wilson and Bob McNamara of Manistique and George Sturgeon of Munising each bucketed 13 points.

U. P. Cager Is Threat To Take Point Honors

By HARRY STAPLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

A towering stranger from the North country zipped into the picture and threatened to overtake Fred Corbus of St. Louis as the state's leading high school basketball scorer.

Nobody had heard much about center Norbert Puro of Class C Ironwood St. Ambrose in the Upper Peninsula until his recent scoring spree.

The lanky six-foot eight player, one of Michigan's tallest, netted 38 points Friday to run his season total to 426 and his average to 26.6 in 16 games.

Kutches Third

But Corbus, who scored 34 for unbeaten class C St. Louis in central Michigan Friday, still leads with a 395 total and a lofty 30.5 average for 13 games. Pete Kutches of class C Escanaba St. Joseph stood third with a 261 average in 11 games.

Ron Kramer of East Detroit paced the class A scorers with a 23.2 point average in 10 games and stood ninth overall.

Spartan Coach Munn Honored

DETROIT—(P)—Coach Biggie Munn of Michigan State accepted the football coach of the year award last night at the Detroit Times Downtown Quarterback banquet and credited his assistant coaches as the best in the country.

"I don't know where you'd find a better staff of assistants," said Munn who turned out his first unbeaten team in his 20 years of coaching.

Munn received the Johnny Maubetsch trophy named for the great Michigan halfback of some 3 years ago. Michigan basketball coach Ernie McCoy presented the trophy awarded by the Times.

Name Speakers

"I understand just how those Michigan State boys feel about Biggie," said McCoy. "He's one of the roughest, toughest, kindest, softest guys I know."

The banquet drew hundreds of fans to Masonic Temple to hear such coaches as Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin, Bernie Crimmins of Indiana, Ray Eliot of Illinois, Paul Bryant of Kentucky and Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions.

The college player of the year award went to Dick Kazmaier of Princeton, the pro player award to lineman John Prehlik of Detroit Lions and the high school coach of the year award to Alex Chesney of Redford St. Mary of Detroit. Illinois got the Fielding H. Yost memorial trophy for winning the Big Ten title.

Winter Olympic Teams Arrive Without Fuss

OSLO, Norway — (P) — The train carrying the winter Olympic teams from West Germany, Poland and Bulgaria pulled into Oslo's East station today creating political confusion, but little demonstrations.

A tactful trainmaster had separated the three countries as completely as possible. The 50-man Polish team was at the front of the train. The 14 Bulgarians were in the middle and the 32-man German squad near the rear.

The arrival of the two Communist teams and one from the recent enemy nation caused little excitement in the bustling station. But when the Germans in sky blue caps were lined up for a picture in front of the Olympic symbols near the station, scattered passersby turned their heads the other way.

The American Alpine skiers, who have been training in Austria, are due in tonight by plane, leaving only the world figure skating champion Dick Button absent in U. S. camp. Button, now in Vienna, is expected tomorrow night.

Woody Dumart In 200 Club

(By The Associated Press)

Woodrow Wilson Clarence (Woody) Dumart is a member in good standing today in the National Hockey League's select "200" goal club.

The popular 35-year-old veteran of the Boston Bruins reached the magic number last night as the Bruins blanked the Chicago Blackhawks, 5-0.

Dumart, used infrequently this season, was a member of one of the greatest lines in the league's annals. He patrolled left wing on the "Kraut line" that had Bobby Bauer at right wing and Milt Schmidt at center. Bauer has retired but Schmidt still is going strong.

Woody banked home his 200th goal in the third period. It was only his third of the season, all against Chicago. He's the 22nd player in the league's history to reach the 200 mark. Max Bentley of Toronto and Bill Mosienko of Chicago joined the exclusive club earlier this season.

The victory enabled the Bruins to pull six points ahead of the fifth place New York Rangers.

END LOSS STREAK

HONEOYE, N. Y.—(P)—The boys on the Honeoye Central School basketball team had something to cheer about last night. They ended a 60-game losing streak by beating Gorham Central, 60-51.

Villanova's athletic teams are nicknamed the Main Liners because Villanova College is located in the heart of Philadelphia's suburban residential area known as the Main Line.

Iowa Favored Over Illinois In Saturday Court Contest

CHICAGO — (P)—The Illinois-Iowa basketball showdown at Iowa City Saturday is building up the most suspense of any Big Ten game of the season thus far.

Each team has lost only one game for the entire season, Illinois to DePaul in non-league play and Iowa at Indiana in a conference corker.

The Illini lead the Big Ten title chase with a 6-0 record while Iowa is second with 5-1.

Expect 16,000

All the dramatic elements of a terrific game will be vibrant Saturday with a standing room throng of 16,000 at the Iowa fieldhouse. Who will win?

Well, Iowa has taken 10 of its last 12 games from Illinois at Iowa City. Probably no team in the conference is as near invincible as Iowa at home. The Hawkeyes have piled up 55 straight non-conference victories there and have been almost as stubborn in league action.

In three home conference games this season, Iowa has averaged 77.3 points and held the opposition to 60.6. Illinois, in its three road games thus far, has a 61.3 average and limited foes to 52.

Strictly on a home-road basis, Iowa thus is outscoring Illinois by 16 points per game while Illinois' defense is holding competition to eight points less than the Hawkeyes.

The difference between the offense and defense of the two rivals on this basis is eight points in favor of Iowa.

Two Upsets

None of the top ten teams in this week's Associated Press poll played last night, but William and Mary are Youngstown registered upsets.

William and Mary handed North

Terry Thompson of unbeaten Ishpeming led the class B ranks with a 24.1 average in 13 games and ranked sixth overall.

Doug Steward, the heralded ace of Vermontville's unbeaten club, paced the class D scorers with a 25.9 average in 13 games and scored fourth overall.

Other High Scorers

Here's how other leading point-makers stand:

Dean Moore, Fenton, 24.1 average in 8 games; Gerry Shrig, Warren, 23.7 in 10; John Fisher, Owasco St. Paul, 23.4 in 13; Ken Springs, Durand, 21.4 in 10.

Bill Stuijbergen, Kalamazoo Central, 20.9 in 9; Larry Lee, Burr Oak, 20.5 in 13; Don Hammond, Davison, 20.4 in 10; Dave Benjamin, Flint Sacred Heart, 20.2 in 12; Ray Mayes, Port Austin, 20 in 11; Don Steffen, Flint Central, 20 in 10.

Jim Trusick, Van Dyke Fitzgerald, 19.9 in 10; Harold Mole-naar, Kalamazoo Christian, 19.5 in 11; Dale Bouck, Corunna, 18.5 in 13; Jerry Volek, Owasco, 18.3 in 9; Bob Amble, Harrison, 17.9 in 11; Jerry Lubbers, Corunna, 17.4 in 13.

Who Is Highest Salaried Ball Player? Not Williams

NEW YORK — (P)—They start kicking baseball salaries around again in a government hearing today and if they open up the books, as expected, there may be a few mild surprises.

For instance, what player do you suppose drew down the top flat salary in 1951?

DiMaggio? Williams? Guess again.

It was the St. Louis Cardinals' superb Stan Musial, according to one high-placed source who claims to have the full financial dope on the game's gold-plated stars.

Bonuses Add Up

Although on an overall basis, counting bonuses and such, he didn't match the Yankees' Joe DiMaggio and the Red Sox' Ted Williams. Musial signed for the largest guaranteed pay, like this:

Player	Salary	Bonus	Total
Musial	$75,000	$ 5,000	$80,000
Williams	70,000	20,000	90,000
DiMaggio	60,000	30,000	90,000

While These and other figures are expected to be bandied about in today's hearing of the Salary Stabilization Board, there'll be no argument over who is highest paid in 1952.

DiMaggio has retired and Williams is headed for Marine service, leaving Musial pretty much alone in the astronomical income brackets.

The latest SSB hearing deals with the recent edict putting a curb on the overall baseball club budgets. Under the ruling each club must arrange its 1952 salaries to meet one of two following specifications:

1. The total salary payroll of any one year, 1946 through 1950, plus a ten per cent flat increase.
2. The total salaries paid in 1951 in accordance with previous rulings, with no increase.

Bitter Objection

Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, for one, bitterly objects to this decree which he says caught him with some two-thirds of his players already signed.

O'Malley said the players were signed under the old SSB provision and some of them were given nice increases. If the present government ruling is permitted to stand, then most contracts will have to be called back and renegotiated.

Otherwise, unsigned players would have to take sharp pay cuts to make the club's budget fall inside the 1951 figure.

Former sports columnist John Kieran will preside at the hearing and make recommendations to the Salary Stabilization Board.

Canadian Boxer In Good Showing

TORONTO — (P)—A 20-year-old Canadian lad who wasn't rated a chance at going more than five rounds with New York's lightweight champion James Carter stuck around for the route last night in one of the best fights seen in these parts for years.

Even though he dropped a unanimous decision in the nine-round non-title clash, Toronto's Allan McFater put up a show that veteran fight followers termed his best ever. A crowd of 8,666 paid $17,334.

Carter beat McFater to the punch most of the time, but the Canadian was never on the run. The Negro title-holder directed his attack at the Toronto fighter's mid-section, keeping him off balance with jabbing lefts and a lightning-like right cross.

The Canadian press score card gave Carter six rounds, McFater two and one even. There were no knockdowns in the nine rounds, a compromise distance between eight and 10.

Some in the crowd booed the decision. They had roared time and again throughout the bout when McFater laid into Carter, but most of the punches were glancing off the champion's gloves, shoulders and head.

Record Field Is Seen In Spartan Relays Feb. 16

EAST LANSING, Mich. — (P)—A record field of more than 400 starters is indicated for the 30th annual Michigan State relay meets Feb. 16, MSC track coach Karl Schladekman said today.

Schladekman said the first batch of mail on the relays contained answers from 11 colleges and universities with a total of 243 individual entries.

The final field may be nearly double that number due to stepped up interest because of the Olympic year, Schladekman said.

Already in the lists are Kansas State, Oklahoma, Albion Central Michigan, Michigan, Notre Dame, Hope, Miami, Michigan Normal, Hillsdale and the host team, Michigan State.

Schladekman said the meet director this year would be Dave Rankin, Purdue University coach.

More Athletics Urged By Wilson

DETROIT — (P)—"In my book instead of deemphasis we should have more athletics."

That was Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, commissioner of the Western Conference, speaking at the Detroit Times Downtown Quarterback club banquet last night.

"It's true that in the last few years some undesirable things have crept into college athletics," he said. "But I think that with the help of men like Biggie Munn of Michigan State and Ray Eliot of Illinois we'll bring things under control."

"Every youngster should have a chance to take part in competitive athletics."

Nahma Works For Library

NAHMA, Mich.—The Nahma Community Coordinating Council has launched a campaign to establish a public library here.

Miss Dorothy Brown, English teacher in the F. W. Good high school, was appointed chairman of the library project committee. The group will seek quarters for the new educational institution, and will make a solicitation drive for contributions of books, magazines and newspapers.

Any persons wishing to donate books and publications are asked to notify Miss Brown.

Two places have been suggested as a library site—the community center and school building. Selection will be made later after a careful study by the library committee and the community council.

Ira Hanson, manual arts instructor, is chairman of the community council. As a result of last week's meetings of the group, a number of community betterment projects already have been launched.

The first general garbage collection was made in Nahma on Tuesday. Work was started on the ice rink, but skating has been prevented by soft weather conditions. A grade school basketball program for fifth to eighth grade students has been launched. Play will be every Saturday morning from 10 to noon at the community center gymnasium. A tournament will be held at the end of the season.

Community law enforcement was also discussed by the council. Appointment of a constable has been suggested to the township board to curb automobile speeding on Nahma's streets and highways and maintain order at public gatherings.

Nazi Pattern Club Is Investigated In Philadelphia School

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr., appointed nine members to a newly-organized city commission on human relations yesterday and asked the group to investigate a reported Nazi-type youth organization at a city high school.

He told the commission, formed under the city's new charter, it was of particular importance to determine why the group was permitted to develop unchecked.

Two youths arrested after the fire-bombing of a Jewish synagogue told officials they belonged to a club which had adopted Hitler tactics.

The commission is empowered to enforce laws prohibiting discrimination because of race, color, religion or national origin.

Career In Washington May Be Nearing End, Veep Bartley Decides

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (AP) — Vice President Alben Barkley is giving thought to the idea that his long career in Washington may be nearing an end.

Barkley, whose place in the 1952 political picture hasn't been clearly defined, dropped an inkling here last night that he may be thinking in terms of retirement. He came to Louisville to join Mrs. Barkley at a dinner opening Kentucky's Heart Fund drive.

Speaking briefly, he noted the presence of Rep. Thurston B. Morton, a Louisville Republican. Barkley is a Democrat. "Mr. Morton always offers to help me after an election," the vice president said. "I wish he would lend me a hand during an election."

Then, as an afterthought, he smilingly said: "I may not be around Washington after the next one."

Plunge Of B-29 Kills 3 Men And Injures 8

MARCH AIR BASE, Calif. — (AP) — Three men were killed and eight injured when a B-29 bomber, sweeping in for a landing, crashed and burned in an alfalfa field a mile and a half short of the runway yesterday.

The craft apparently lost power and the pilot attempted to crash land with the wheels up.

Some of the survivors were thrown clear, still strapped in their seats. Others were pulled from the flaming wreckage by rescue teams in asbestos suits.

The Air Force identified the dead as Capt. C. W. Gatchel, 1st Lt. Billy Lee and T. Sgt. W. S. Bradley, all of nearby Riverside.

KING GEORGE VI

Princess Elizabeth New Ruler Of Britain

The airport felt it was almost as if Elizabeth had a premonition she might not see her father alive again.

George VI was the first British King to visit the United States. He was there with his Queen, Elizabeth, in 1939. The new Queen went to Washington last year on a side-excursion from her trip across Canada.

Queen Mother Now 84
Prime Minister Churchill called an emergency meeting of the cabinet to set in motion the machinery which will lead to Elizabeth's formal taking of the throne. One of her first duties will be to set a period of mourning for the court.

When her grandfather, George V, died, court mourning was ordered for nine months.
George V's Queen, Mary at 84 has outlived both her husband and her son.

Car Bomb Kills Dog Race Figure

SAN MATEO, Calif. — (AP) — Federal, state and local probers were mystified today by failure to discover a motive for the dynamite killing of a wealthy manufacturer of race track "tote" boards.

Tom Keen, 56, president of the International Totalizer Co. and a national figure in dog racing, was dismembered yesterday when he touched the starter button on his Cadillac and set off dynamite tucked under the hood.

The explosion destroyed the garage and blew an engine mounting 25 feet through a window of Keen's 16-room mansion.

Police Chief Martin McDonnell said he believed Keen was killed by imported hoodlums as a "result of a business conflict."

But Frank Ahearn, San Francisco homicide inspector said: "We are up in the air. We have nothing."

"Probably an old dog score," was the opinion of William P. Kyne, manager of Bay Meadows race track, who called Keen a "high type, wide open guy."

Keen's company manufactures odds-flashing "tote" boards for dog and horse tracks. He also was co-inventor of the mechanical rabbits used in dog racing.

State College Statue Paint Job Too Early

EAST LANSING — (AP) — Michigan State College police were mildly surprised this week to discover the Spartan statue gleaming yellow and blue—the Michigan colors.

Two discarded cans of paint were found at the base of the statue.

The surprising thing is that the MSC statue generally gets the paint job only during the football season.

MSC police feel kind of hurt about it.

"It's like shooting birds out of season," one said. "We haven't even started football practice yet."

Kidnap-Robbery Suspects Caught

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. — (AP) — Police with drawn pistols today captured four men and a woman suspected of robbing a Muskegon apartment and abducting its woman occupant.

A car containing the five and the abducted woman was stopped in downtown St. Joseph at 12:42 a. m. by three patrolmen.

All of the group, including the abducted woman, were held for investigation.

Police identified the six as: Pheldeltha Crawford, 23, of Muskegon, who was reportedly forced to accompany the bandits in their getaway car; and Betty Killian, 26, Albert B. Barbee, 24, Webster Thompson, 25, John Wilson, 30, and Obie L. Morris, 28, all of Chicago. Police listed all as Negroes.

Their car was heading south on US-12 when officers halted it after being alerted by a state-wide alarm.

The alarm was spread following the holdup $250 robbery of the apartment in Muskegon of Isaiah Cheeks.

Cheeks said the group came to his apartment last night, visited for about 45 minutes then drew their pistols and robbed him. They forced the Crawford woman, who had been staying at Cheeks' apartment, into the getaway car, he said.

Anesthetic Explosion Kills Chicago Priest

CHICAGO — (AP) — An anesthetic tank exploded in a hospital operating room yesterday and a deputy coroner said it caused the death of a Roman Catholic priest who was undergoing surgery.

"Those things do happen, but not very often," Thomas A. Carter, deputy coroner, said of the accident.

The priest was the Rev. James P. Cummings, 35, who had been on sick leave from his pastorate for a year and was being operated on for ulcers.

The explosion occurred in St. Francis hospital in suburban Evanston. Carter said attendants there told him the priest inhaled hot smoke and gases which filled the room after the blast.

Carter said the anesthetic was a combination of ether and cyclopropane, administered under pressure. The gases, he explained, are highly inflammable.

Taft And Eisenhower Supporters Battle In Oklahoma Convention

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. — (AP) — Oklahoma Republicans are poised again today for another steaming Taft-Eisenhower battle at the second district convention.

But Eisenhower supporters in northwestern Oklahoma lack the powerful organization that rode to thumping victories in the third and fifth district meetings. Supporters of Senator Taft, meanwhile, appear well organized and self-assured.

After today's convention, only two more district delegates are left to be named—both in Tulsa's first district. Taft is almost assured of total victory in the final meeting.

The deciding factor in Oklahoma's 16 man GOP delegation to Chicago will be the four at-large members elected at the state convention.

Brannan Fires Two Commodity Officials In Dallas Office

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary Brannan today fired the director and assistant director of the agriculture department's commodity office at Dallas, in connection with current investigations of shortages of government grain.

The discharges, of Director Latham White and Assistant Director James Solomon, become effective at the close of business Friday. They have been off duty since late in December, pending a department investigation.

A department spokesman said the men were removed from their jobs for "administrative deficiencies and inadequacies."

It was in the Dallas area that several commercial storage concerns had been charged with converting government grain to their own use, mainly for speculative uses.

Crossing Crash Fatal To Quinnesec Man, Old MSC Grid Star

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. — Par-nell G. McKenna, 65, native of nearby Quinnesec and one of Michigan State College's all-time football greats, died last night at Memorial hospital from injuries suffered in a locomotive-auto collision last Saturday at a crossing in Quinnesec.

Henry Gribben, 63, also of Quinnesec and a passenger in McKenna's car, died three hours after the accident. McKenna's car was struck by a Chicago and North Western railroad locomotive and dragged nearly 400 feet.

McKenna starred for Michigan State football teams in 1908 and 1909, captaining the 1909 team.

Housewife Denies Forging Two Wills To Collect $100,000

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A 61-year-old housewife has pleaded innocent to charges she tried to get $100,000 from the estate of wealthy eccentric Charles Babonet by forging two will.

Mrs. Pearl Tyson was arraigned on seven counts of forgery and preparing false evidence yesterday after Clark Sellers, handwriting expert, told authorities she had written two wills ascribed to Babonet.

Babonet, oil-rich invalid, died in 1950 leaving an estate of $400,000. His only natural heirs are distant relatives in Arkansas.

Shakedown Ring Boss Convicted

NEW YORK — (AP) — James J. Moran, pal of ex-Mayor William O'Dwyer, was convicted last night as the mastermind of a $500,000-a-year fire department, shakedown ring.

Moran, who served as first deputy fire commissioner under O'Dwyer, was found guilty on all 23 counts of extortion and one of conspiracy.

The maximum possible sentence could be 348 years in prison. Moran's bail was revoked after the jury of middle-aged businessmen reported its verdict. He was sent to the city prison to await sentencing March 4.

The jury deliberated two hours. The trial ran through 14 court days before General Sessions Judge John A. Mullen.

The prosecution said Moran was the "guiding genius and protector" of the racket in which oil burner installers seeking fire department permits for legitimate jobs were shaken down. The fixed schedule of illegal fees collected by inspectors ranged from $5 to $35, witnesses said.

Wall Street

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK — (AP) — A gentle rebound today in the stock market reversed a two-day down-trend. Gains were rather routine—fractions to around a point. Losses were scattered and usually less than a point.

The change of direction today appeared to have little significance outside of the technical field. Brokers explained that the market felt abruptly Monday and forenoon. Shortly after lunchtime the market recovered mildly and continued in that vein to the close.

Today at the start the market was higher, apparently a carry over in sentiment from yesterday. Outside of the progress made in the negotiations for a truce in Korea, there is little apparent news to influence trading one way or another.

Today the rails, oils, steels, and motors stood ahead modestly. The non-ferrous metals were unchanged to a bit lower while chemicals remained mixed.

Radio-Television shares almost all were fractions higher. Some individual issues were standouts, including St. Regis Paper up 1/8 at 23.

Corporate bonds were steady. The London stock market suspended trading early because of the death of King George.

Truman Shift Has Democrats Dizzy

Truman does not seek reelection.

Kefauver Campaigns
Kefauver, who has announced he is in the race "to the finish," plans to campaign actively in New Hampshire, where a slate backing him will buck Truman delegate candidates in the March 11 primary.

"The Tennessee Senator said he will make a 'non-political' speech at Nashua, N. H., Sunday and follow it up later with campaign appeals."

He said in a statement yesterday that the President's decision to remain on the ballot is "good news," adding that this will give the voters "the opportunity to express some choice in the designation of party nominees."

James D. McPhail, Manchester lumber dealer who entered Truman's name, predicted the President "will sweep the state," but Hugh Waling, Kefauver supporter, said he thinks the Tennessee Senator will win.

Competent observers here gave Kefauver only an outside chance in New Hampshire, where the state Democratic organization is lined up solidly behind the President.

The first step in gaining U. S. citizenship is to make a declaration of intention in the office of the clerk of any naturalization court.
